This April, Site Waste Management Plans become mandatory in England for the construction industry. To comply with the legislation, all projects over £300,000 in value should have completed a SWMP.

To avoid fixed penalty notices and fines of up to £50,000 we can help you equip your company/workforce to know how to produce and implement site waste management plans.

We deliver a half day workshop, designed to be practical, easy to understand and leave delegates with the essential information they need and the tools they need to implement SWMP's.
